

Line Guard

"Using our energy...to protect YOURS"

Line Guard is the last line of protection for you and your customers against the second leading cause of power outages...possums.

Why will this product succeed while others fail?

- The Line Guard focuses on prevention at the source...access.
- The Line Guard will prevent possums from using power lines as a "high-way" for chaos.

The Line Guard will;

- protect your substations, transformers, and risers;
- allow installation without downtime and inconvenience to your customers;
- help dramatically improve your commitment to quality power service.

With an ever increasing dependence on expensive technology both at home and in the workplace, now is the time for a solution dealing with these pesky animals. The Wildlife Guard Product range now gives you a foundation and means toward an effective animal mitigation strategy...all the while maintaining a significant Cost-to-Benefit ratio.
